> One would have thought the day of the U-turn at downtown intersections was long a thing of the past. Yet adult drivers who should know better, still attempt this dangerous practice in Sedalia.

Liberty Park has become a mecca for recreation-seekers. You don't have to go to the park for visible evidence thousands are using this delightful place. Porch-sitters on West Third Street can tell by the increased motor traffic. But if you think the porch sitters can relax you're mistaken. Third street has become a veritable race track for the craziest drivers I ever saw. Screeching tires, running the light at Grand and Missouri, passing a string of cars in two blocks at 35 miles an hour or better gives an onlooker the litters. A lew speed sign might help, but as much as I'm against them, a speed trap might get better results, with ample publicity given the violators who are fined. The police could collect enough money on Third Street to pay for buying another police car and hiring another patrolman.

It's downright crazy the way motorists act on Third street, from Ohio all the way to the Park and even out to State Fair boulevard.

Sedalia

Miss Mary Louise Schler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orie G. Foree, 309 North Benton, Marshall, became the bride of Mr. Jack Weathers Crawford, son of Mrs. Prudence Crawford, 902 West 20th, Sedalia, in a summer wedding at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, June 27, at the First Baptist Church in Marshall. The Rev. Harvey Baker Smith performed the double ring ceremony in the sanctuary of the church.

White satin bows marked the family pews and a basket of white gladioli and greenery placed in back of a white satin covered kneeling bench were the only decorations used. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. C. L. Fichthorn played appropriate wedding music and during the ceremony played "Through the Years" and "To a Wild Rose." She also played the traditional wedding march. She accompanied Miss Freta Dick as she sang "At Dawning" and Clay Killion as he sang "I Love You Truly" and, at the close of the ceremony, "The Lord's Prayer." Miss Joy Little and Mrs. Ethel Thomas lighted the white tapers. Their gowns were similar in style. Miss Little's gown was of toast net over taffeta, featuring a stole and Mrs. Thomas' gown was yellow net over taffeta, featuring a stole. Both wore matching headbands and a wristlet of white carnations. ### Sunday School Lesson Notes

CHRISTIAN GROWTH SHOULD BE FRUITFUL By William E. Gilroy, D. D.

T There is a verse in the recorded sayings of Jesus to which I believe the Christian world in general has never given the attention and importance it deserves.

It is in John 15:8: "Herein is my Father glorified, that ye bear much fruit; so shall ye be my disciples." We make much in words and worship of the idea of glorifying God, but how seldom and how little is the glory that we give to God associated with the fact of fruitfulness, either in our worship, or in our Christian

We associate the idea of growth, too, mainly with size, increase and expansion; but the real and ultimate test is fruitfulness.

A tree with richly spreading branches that bears no fruit, except as something to look at, is relatively worthless. There are Christians like that (perhaps many of us are like that). We are pleasant to look at, but live lives that are largely negative so far as bearing fruit is concerned.

What does it mean to bear fruit as Christians? First, let us consider the matter of glorifying God. What is the nature of the God whom, Jesus says, is glorified by the bearing of much fruit?

It is a test that challenges much of our worship. The glory assigned to God has much more of the sort of obeisance that might be given to an earthly and demanding emperor, rather than to a spiritual God, who care little for our plaudits but very much for the quality of our faith and our liv-

Merry-Go-Round Kefauver Enemies Out for His Scalp in Race for Senate

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON-Pat Sutton, the young Tennessee congressman who a few years ago sold pants in his congressional office, has suddenly turned up with a passel of money at his disposal in his race for the senate against Estes

The money has all the earmarks of coming from sources which Kefauver fought and which has vowed to put him out of the senate; with some money also coming from the Texas oil lob-

One former associate of Mickey McBride, head of the racing wire which linked up the bookies of the nation and which Kefauver put out of business, is now touring Tennessee as Sutton's chief radio expert. He is Robert Venn, who organized three big talkathons for Sutton, costing in the neighborhood of $35,000.

Sutton is also traveling in a helicopter, which takes money to operate. Yet a few short years ago he was not only selling suits of clothes in his Washington office to eke out his salary, but pulled wires at the justice department to keep his father-in-law from being prosecuted for income - tax evasion. In the end, a runaway grand jury in Lawrenceburg, Tenn., indicted his father-in-law despite Sutton's efforts on his

During the Kefauver crime probe, Mickey McBride, operator of the bookie wire, was one of the highlighted witnesses in Miami. As a result of the Kefauver probe, legislation passed congress putting the race wire out of business. Venn, who is now touring Tennessee trying to defeat Kefauver, was general manager of Mc-Bride's radio station WMIE in Miami.

Washington Whirl

Dick Kleberg, millionaire co-owner of the world's largest ranch, the King ranch, ran true to form when he got $32,585 worth of government cottonseed pellets supposed to be used for needy farmers stricken by the drouth. Kleberg, when in congress, required a Capitol page boy getting $50 a week to kick back part of his salary to Klegerg, a millionaire . . . When this column exposed the kickback, Kleberg's Texas constituents defeated him . . . Max Kampelman, assistant to Sen. Hubert Humphrey, sat on the senate floor for an hour and half to make sure his boss voted for the Eisenhower tax bill. Humphrey had made a devastating speech against the bill, pointing out its loopholes, then yielded to Kampleman and voted for it . . . Sen. Dick Russell of Georgia, a conservative, couldn't stomach the glaring loopholes in the tax bill, voted against it . . . President Eisenhower castigated Fascism on the 5th of July, then posed for photograthers smiling at the daughter of the chief Fascist Dictator, General Franco, on the 8th of July.

House Headaches

The graft-ridden Federal Housing Administration has become so jittery that it won't deal with even some of the most reputable building outfits. The International Development Corporation, organized by Nelson Rockefeller, a member of the Eisenhower little cabinet, has been doing a patriotic private Point 4 job in Latin America, but, believe it or not, couldn't get FHA cooperation for Puerto Rico. It's now going ahead anyway with 2,000 concrete homes near San Juan. People there are so eager for houses that 500 down payments have been received even before the units were built. . . . Eddie Miller, ex-Assistant Secretary of State and now Mayor Wagner's advisor on Puerto problems in New York, says the way to solve the steady influx of Puerto Ricans into the USA is to make things better in Puerto Rico. The Rockefeller housing project should help. . . . The Public Health Service warns that bats in some areas are infected with rabies. Only a few bats are infected, but if they do happen to bite you, see your doctor for rabies shots. . . . Small businessmen are sore at Senator Jenner of Indiana for bottling up a bill which would make the Senate Small Business Committee permanent. A majority of the Senate supports this, but even so, Jenner has blocked the bill in committee.

Smooth Lobbying Machine

The White House has now developed a far more efficient machine than either Roosevelt or Truman for ramming hotly contested bills through Congress.

Roosevelt, in the heyday of Jim Farley, had one of the best machines. Jim used his Irish charm, mixed with the latent likelihood of postmasterships to switch votes on Capitol Hill. And he kept a gard index of how congressmen voted. The Eisenhower administration does the Ike'e boys, however, have gone further. During the farm bill debates they not only threatened to withhold campaign contributions from reluctant congressmen, but used an on-the-spot ex-congressman to switch votes right on the floor of the House.

He was Ross Rizley, former member of Congress from Oklahoma, who introduced legislation favoring the big natural gas companies at a time when his law firm represented Cities Service, Republic Natural Gas and Panhandle Eastern Pipeline. Last year Rizley became solicitor of the post office under Eisenhower and is now assistant secretary of agriculture.

As such, he sat on the House floor during the recent farm bill debate, buttonholing congressmen so brazenly that Paul Jones of Missouri protested, and Rizley finally retreated to the Republican cloakroom, from which he continued Seldom has a White House lobbyist been so active. It was Rizley who got Congressman Page Belcher, Oklahoma Republican, to urge flexible price supports in the Agriculture Committee. When Belcher got too many hostile letters from Oklahoma, Rizley persuaded Congressman Robert Harrison of Nebraska to lead the flexible price support battle on the House floor. He also induced Congressmen Hill of Colorado and Harvey of Indiana to switch votes and go along with the administration.

If 'Athlete's Foot' Lingers Better See a Skin Specialist

"Is it possible to cure atthlete's foot?" writes Mrs. M. "I have had a condition on my foot for about a year and have used salves and powers with no relief."

In answer to this question I can say that there are a number of excellent treatments for athlete's foot. But Mrs. M. is jumping to conclusions if she assumes that anything on the foot is that disease. Perhaps she has something else.

Furthermore it is risky to treat one's self and here is a good example where self treatment has failed.

Some of my skin specialist friends, for example, have told me that they have had more trouble treating the skin of those who had worked on themselves than they did those with the

"Athlete's foot" is not a disease of athletes alone nor is it confined to the foot.

The same condition is also called ringwormbut it isn't caused by a worm nor does it often appear in the shape of a ring. The correct name is dermatophytosis, if you can remember it.

This disease is caused by fungi, which are considered to belong to the plant world.

These fungi grow best in the damp and dark. They will last for some time on damp towels or wet floors.

Hence there is more likely to be trouble with them in warm weather when more people use locker rooms and engage in athletics.

If you would avoid infection the feet should be kept clean and dry, the socks and shoes dried and aired frequently, and towels should be completely dry and never shared.

A dusting powder consisting of 10 per cent boric acid in powderd tale to be used on the feet twice a day has also been recommended. This could be used in the groin, too.

Even with precautions, however, it seems unlikely that this disease will disappear. Usually, it produces some itching and scaling, cracking, or some other peculiar appearance of the skin. Occasionally the symptoms can be really Dermatophytosis may be difficult to cure especially if the fungi lodge in the nails or other places hard to get at.

Furthermore reinfection from towels, socks, scratching or the like is common. If the simple dusting powder mentioned does not get rid of the trouble professional advice is likely to save trouble in the long run.

Organizing the Job Licks Housework-vs.-Kids Problem

By Ruth Millett

Any mother of three small children who has worked out a plan that enables her to master her homemaking job instead of being run by its demands upon her time deserves to be heard. So let's hear from Mrs. M, who writes:

"I've never found much help for the mother of small children who wants to organize her work in such a way that she has time for the children (three in my case) and still does a reasonably good job of housekeeping.

"I tried following the Monday wash day, Tuesday general cleaning, etc., type of routine-and

"Finally I worked out a plan that is a happy solution for me. And it may be so for others of vour women readers

"Here it is: I divide my work into jobs that are hard, physical labor and can best be done first thing in the morning before I am tired; jobs that can be done in spare moments; jobs that aren't too particular that I can let the children help me with. These are saved until the children start demanding my attention. Then there are the jojbs that require some peace and quiet and are best done while the children nap or are playing happily outside.

She Has The Right Idea

"It is amazing how much I can get done with that kind of flexible schedule and how much happier the childdren are, now that I tailor my jobs to fit the circumstances of each day."

This reader's work schedule may or may not work for you. But she has the right idea. A woman with small children to look after only makes herself and her family miserable by trying to follow a too-rigid work schedule. What she needs is a flexible schedule built around the needs and activities of her family rather than trying to bend the family to fit her schedule.

The housewife who can achieve a flexible but workable schedule has her job licked. She doesn't feel that she is a slave to a driving routine.

committee that is holding hearings on curbing unfair congressional investigations. After the hearings, he will draw up public recommendations, but will carefully avoid mentioning Mc-Carthy's name. However, he will also send his own recommendations to the White House on McCarthy-privately.

Syngman Rhee's Road - President Syngman Rhee has been obstructing the rehabilitation of South Korea by insisting on spending American aid money his own way. He wants to build a superhighway from Pusan to Seoul, though few Koreans own automobiles. American advisers think it is more important to spend the money for food and shelter and, as a result, practically nothing has been done. Meanwhile the Communists are industriously rebuilding North Korea as a showcase. This makes it look as if the Reds are doing more for the people than we are—thanks in large part to President Rhee. Ridgway Objects-Army Chief of Staff Gen. Matt Ridgway is raising cain inside the Pentagon over a new Army reorganization plan that would strip field commanders of their authority over technical personnel. The plan would put the Army directly under the control of the Pentagon civilians. Ridgway protested privately that he wasn't even consulted by Undersecretary of the Army John Slezak, who arbitrarily drew up the plan. Ridgway also warned that it would make the technical services more important than fighting wars, and would end up by costing thousands of lives on the battlefield.

Gallows Takes Man Who Shot Deputy Sheriff

LANSING, Kan. (A)-Merle William Martin, 44, was hanged at the Kansas prison early today shortly after making a full confession that he killed a deputy sheriff two years ago.

Until last night Martin and his attorneys continued an intensive effort through the courts to stop the execution. The U.S. Supreme Court last week denied a stay. Then just before last midnight Warden Charles A. Edmondson was given a handwritten note from Martin stating, "On June 23, 1952, I fired the shots that killed Officer Willard Carver near Zarah, Kan.' Martin and Charles Isgrigg, 40, both of Joplin, Mo., were encountered by Deputy Carver and Deputy Floyd Gaunt as the two men were trying to tow a stolen car from a ditch with a stolen truck. A gun battle resulted. Carver was killed. Isgrigg was captured a few hours later and is serving a life term. Martin escaped, and was placed on the FBI's list of the 10 most wanted men. He was captured Aug. 30, 1952, in St. Louis. Martin was convicted Nov. 29, 1952, and Isgrigg pleaded guilty

Youth Tries to Catch Inner Tube, Drowns

ST. CHARLES, Mo., (A)-Allen K. York, 21, of Breckenridge Hills in St. Louis County drowned yesterday in Willow Wood Lake about seven miles northwest of here. Officers said York became exhausted while trying to retrieve an inflated inner tube that a breeze apparently kept pushing beyond his reach. York was about 50 feet from shore when he went down.

York, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. York had gone to the lake with two relatives. He was discharged from the Army earlier this year.

The body was recovered by the St. Charles County rescue corps about four hours later.

Thursday night's play in the Little Leagues' schedule of games saw the league leading Optimists down Adco, 11-2, and the Lions continue their winning way by beating Democrat-Capital, 8-4.

In the first game the Optimists put on a scoring rampage in the third inning and the remainder of the contest held their competitors to two runs. The third inning runs came as McMackin and Wallace started with a single, Wertz and Bryan singled, scoring the three Industrial League base runners. Baserunner Kelly, who walked, then scored on a single by Fricke, and Ely and Dunham scored on another single by McMackin. McMackin came Mcadow Gold around on a double by Wertz. Bryan then fouled out to end the 8 run scoring. The Adco runs came

Judy Blaine, Lester Harrell Exchange Vows

Miss Judy Blaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Blaine, 1101 South Lamine, became the bride of Mr. Lester S. Harrell Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester S. Har-rell Sr., 923 East Tenth, at 7 o'clock in the evening Friday, July 2. The marriage took place at the parsonage of the Epworth Methodist Church, where the double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. Ralph E. Hurd in the presence of the immediate families of the couple.

The bride selected for her wedding a street length dress of brown and white nylon with which she wore white accessories. White carnations and stephanotis formed her corsage.

Miss Joann Harrell, sister of the bridegroom, was the bride's only attendant. Miss Harrell wore a yellow and white nylon dress, street length, with white accessories and her corsage was of yellow roses.

Mr. James A. Harrell served his brother as best man. The couple left following the ceremony for a wedding trip to the Badlands and Black Hills of South Dakota. They were gone a week and are now at home at 1101 South Lamine. The bride was graduated from Smith-Cotton High School in the class of 1954 and has since been employed at System Mills. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Smith-Cotton with the class of 1947 and is employed as a printer in the composing room of the Sedalia Democrat.

Foolish Fads In Dieting

This is the time of year when some older women decide to go on a diet, after all. They hope to lose extra poundage in order to look well in their bathing suits. In desperation, they may resort to drastic "fad" diets. These consist mainly of black coffee for breakfast, soup for lunch, and salad for dinner.

Generally, they starve themselves in their efforts to acquire a svelte look. But, you cannot swamp the Optimist, 16-5. The second game proved to be a great deal closer as the final analysis saw the game resulting in a tie, 5-5 and the game being called at the end of six innings by the umpires because of darkness. According to George Thompson, commissioner of the Little League minors, the tie game between the two teams was the best game played thus far this season.

Saturday morning saw two undefeated teams play, Rotary and Adco. The Adco team proved to be the best Saturday morning as they beat their undefeated oppon-ents, 12-8. The second game was a fairly close contest with the Lions beating the Jaycees, 4-1.

Interpreting The News

AP Foreign News Analyst There is a good chance the Premier of France will miss his deadline for bringing about an "honorable" cease-fire in Indo-It depends mostly on the Communist side in the Geneva conference and what Red intentions are toward Pierre Mendes-

France, who pledged himself to step down from the premiershipnext Tuesday if he had not achieved some sort of truce. The question before the Communist side is this: If they insist on driving a hard bargain in Indochina, will that increase the possibility of war on a large scale?

The United States, in pushing its "united action" program, has made it plain that Americans will not intervene alone in Indochina. America's principal ally, Britain, is at the very least reluctant. Thus it has been made plain to the Communists that there is not likely to be any enlargement of the war at this time. As a result of the Paris conference of Mendes-France, Foreign Secretary Eden and Secretary of State Dulles, the Communists may choose to prolong the Geneva talks. Attacks by Moscow radio and Pravda on the Paris meeting hint at that. Moscow accused Dulles of attempting to prevent a settlement when one was near. If such settlement was indeed near, it must have been one quite advantageous to the Red side. It is more likely that the Communists, unaccustomed to throwing away advantages, would hold out for such a result.

Secretary Dulles says a formula for Western unity was achieved at Paris without abandonment of United States principles. What were those principles? For one thing, both President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles have declared that the United States would not sanction Red conquest of any area. For another, the United States not long ago held that Indochina is a "cork in the bottle" preventing spread of the Red menace all over Southeast Asia. Now, however, the United States has returned to the Geneva conference on a high level. It seems plain that if any settlement is to be achieved on Indochina, it will be at the expense of recognizing Red conquest of at least the northern part of Viet Nam. As recently as March 29, Secretary Dulles warned that if the Communsts took over control of any substantial part of Indochina, "they would surely resume the same pattern of aggression against other free peoples in the area" and menace ultimately the whole island chain of free world defenses. Now the prospect is that either the Communists take over a substantial part of Indochina or there will be no end to the war

Secretary Dulles denies any "primary responsibility" of the United States in the Indochina war, but the fact that he personally stays away from Geneva does not relieve the United States of giving tacit sanction in the event a settlement is reached. And the only settlement in prospect seems to be open looking toward partition of Viet Nam. Might it be that Secretary Dulles at this time emphasizes the lack of primary American responsibility in Indochina as a prelude to a settlement there which will go against enunciated American principles? Apparently the United States has some
